Tryout Weekend Notes

- Central Region players will be able to participate in either the Eastern Region tryouts OR the Western Region tryouts. Central Region players do not have to attend both weekends. They can attend whichever weekend they would prefer.
- The expectation of all athletes is they will be in full attendance at their assigned sessions throughout the entire tryout weekend.

Tryout Weekend Exemptions

- Tryout weekend exemptions will only be granted to players who are injured or out-of-province attending school.
- Players who have conflicts on a particular weekend with other activities or cannot attend a particular session on a weekend (once exact schedules are released) will not be granted an exemption.
 - Reminder – any player can attend any tryout weekend if necessary.
- Any player requesting an exemption must register and pay the tryout fee to indicate their interest in the High-Performance Program.
- Any player requesting an exemption MUST complete the 2026-2027 Baseball NL High Performance Program Tryouts – Exemption Request Form

Players that are interested in representing the province on a Provincial team next summer must register for the High-Performance Program. After the initial tryout weekends in October, there will be additional weekends of training in Eastern and Western regions. More information on a schedule will be released prior to the announcement of training pools for the 2026 – 2027 program.

If players are selected to the training pool after the first tryout weekend, they are expected to participate in High Performance Program programming as much as possible. Baseball NL does understand there are other activities and/or conflicts, but it is the expectation of all athletes to be as full participants as possible if selected for the 2026 – 2027 program. These dates will be announced before the program begins.
